

Jubilee of Mercy Prayer

December 8, 2015-November 20, 2016

Lord Jesus Christ,
you have taught us to be merciful like our heavenly Father,
and have told us that whoever sees you sees Him.

Your loving gaze freed Matthew from being enslaved by possessions and many disciples from seeking happiness in selfish pursuits.

Your mercy forgave the adulterous woman, made Peter weep after his betrayal and assured Paradise to the repentant thief.

Send your Spirit on every one of us so that this Jubilee of Mercy may be a time of grace for each of us personally and empower your Church to go forth with renewed enthusiasm to bring good news to the poor, proclaim liberty to captives and the oppressed,
and restore sight to the blind.

We ask this through the intercession of Mary, Mother of Mercy, you who live and reign with the Father and the Holy Spirit for ever and ever. Amen.

+ Anthony B. Taylor, Bishop of Little Rock

Jubilee of Mercy Prayer

December 8, 2015-November 20, 2016

Lord Jesus Christ,
you have taught us to be merciful like our heavenly Father,
and have told us that whoever sees you sees Him.

Your loving gaze freed Matthew from being enslaved by possessions
and many disciples from seeking happiness in selfish pursuits.

Your mercy forgave the adulterous woman, made Peter weep after his betrayal
and assured Paradise to the repentant thief.

Send your Spirit on every one of us
so that this Jubilee of Mercy may be a time of grace for each of us personally and empower your Church to go forth with renewed enthusiasm
to bring good news to the poor,
proclaim liberty to captives and the oppressed,
and restore sight to the blind.

We ask this through the intercession of Mary, Mother of Mercy, you who live and reign with the Father and the Holy Spirit for ever and ever. Amen.

+ Anthony B. Taylor, Bishop of Little Rock

Jubilee of Mercy Prayer

December 8, 2015-November 20, 2016

Lord Jesus Christ,
you have taught us to be merciful like our heavenly Father,
and have told us that whoever sees you sees Him.

Your loving gaze freed Matthew from being enslaved by possessions
and many disciples from seeking happiness in selfish pursuits.

Your mercy forgave the adulterous woman, made Peter weep after his betrayal
and assured Paradise to the repentant thief.

Send your Spirit on every one of us
so that this Jubilee of Mercy may be a time of grace for each of us personally
and empower your Church to go forth with renewed enthusiasm
to bring good news to the poor,
proclaim liberty to captives and the oppressed,
and restore sight to the blind.

We ask this through the intercession of Mary, Mother of Mercy, you who live and reign with the Father and the Holy Spirit for ever and ever. Amen.

+ Anthony B. Taylor, Bishop of Little Rock

Jubilee of Mercy Prayer

December 8, 2015-November 20, 2016

Lord Jesus Christ,
you have taught us to be merciful like our heavenly Father,
and have told us that whoever sees you sees Him.

Your loving gaze freed Matthew from being enslaved by possessions
and many disciples from seeking happiness in selfish pursuits.

Your mercy forgave the adulterous woman, made Peter weep after his betrayal
and assured Paradise to the repentant thief.

Send your Spirit on every one of us
so that this Jubilee of Mercy may be a time of grace for each of us personally
and empower your Church to go forth with renewed enthusiasm
to bring good news to the poor,
proclaim liberty to captives and the oppressed,
and restore sight to the blind.

We ask this through the intercession of Mary, Mother of Mercy, you who live and reign with the Father and the Holy Spirit for ever and ever. Amen.

+ Anthony B. Taylor, Bishop of Little Rock

